ABOUT US

A heritage of nearly fifty years has allowed CSC to assemble a comprehensive portfolio of business and technology-oriented security and privacy solutions to help government agencies achieve regulatory compliance, ensure operational continuity, and safeguard systems, data and other resources.

Organizations are challenged with maintaining compliance in a complex operating and regulatory environment. Stakeholder and citizen confidence rely on a company's ability to safeguard intellectual property and protect sensitive data. In addition, companies must also show sufficient protection of such data in order to pass standard audits. Locating this sensitive data and classifying it according to business risk is a significant challenge that enterprises must address as part of an effective asset protection program.

CSC solves these challenges through our Data Loss Prevention (DLP) solution, helping clients to locate sensitive data throughout the enterprise and put appropriate mechanisms in place to protect and monitor that data in use, in motion and at rest. Our solution supports organizational policy as well as regulatory compliance requirements pertaining to the protection of sensitive data for global companies and across many industries. Our DLP service supports compliance with MITS, PCI, GLBA, HIPAA, Sarbanes Oxley, PIPEDAUK Data Protection Act, Safe Harbor Act and the EU Data Protection Directive.

Key Features

- Discover, monitor, and protect sensitive information
- Fully integrated with your enterprise risk management and compliance program

- Integrated solution with endpoint and network-based controls
- Flexible and customizable layered architecture
- Capable of passive monitoring and active protection in accordance with enterprise requirements
- Managed remotely or entirely located on client premises

In order to provide the best data loss prevention solution for your organization, we begin with a DLP consulting engagement. We will collaborate with your stakeholders to determine the best DLP approach, policies, products and deployment strategy. Our expert consultants will help identify and prioritize data loss-related risks to ensure the appropriate level of service is implemented, resulting in protection of the right data in the right place according to your business and operating principles.
