CSC RECOGNIZED AS ‘BEST TECHNOLOGY VENDOR’ BY REACTIONS MAGAZINE

International Insurance Publication Honors CSC For Two Consecutive Years

FALLS CHURCH, Va., Nov. 4 – CSC (NYSE: CSC) today announced that it has been named “Best Technology Vendor” as part of the Reactions Global Awards, an international awards program for insurers sponsored by Reactions magazine. This is the second year for the “Best Technology Vendor” category, and CSC has won the award both years.

Now in the program’s eighth year, the Reactions Global Awards recognize the best firms and individuals in the global insurance industry. Reactions, a financial publication for the global insurance market, selected award winners by surveying its readers and conducting interviews with leading individuals and companies that represent the insurance and reinsurance industries. The “Best Technology Vendor” category was added to spotlight the critical role information technology (IT) now plays in the insurance industry.

“It is an honor to be recognized by some of the most respected companies and individuals within the industry, many of whom are our clients,” said Jim Cook, president of CSC’s Business Solutions and Services Sector. “Receiving this award for the second year in a row is especially gratifying as it reaffirms our success in the consistent delivery of business-critical insurance and reinsurance solutions around the world. It is also rewarding to see technology being recognized, on a global scale, for the intrinsic value it brings the insurance industry.”

CSC's technology platforms and financial services applications are used by two thirds of the world's top 50 insurers and nearly half of Fortune's global 500 financial services companies. In addition, half of the world's reinsurers use CSC reinsurance solutions.
